"THE STORIES THE WIND CARRIES."

YOU ARE INVITED TO CREATE A PORTRAIT OF SOMEONE FROM OUR COMMUNITY!
ALL AGES. FREE.

"The Stories the Wind Carries" is a project that connects the communities of Toronto, Wawa, Michipicoten First Nation, Pikangikum First Nation, and Wolfe Island. Community members are invited to co-create a series of portraits of fellow neighbours through creative writing, photography and visual arts.

Join us and participate in this project! Everyone is welcome. No artistic experience needed. Contact us to register: info@jami.ca - 647 504 2703

First workshop is on Monday, January 27th at 6pm at the Toronto Public Library, St. Lawrence Branch, 171 Front Street East. The project is until February 8th, with evening and weekend workshops.

CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS

This project is facilitated by Jamii, an arts organization with an intent of building community. Artistic leadership: Isorine Marc, Zarita Adhiambo, Dan Bergeron, and Andrew Patterson. (Artwork for this flyer: Andrew Patterson)
